Coloured dream of eternity
Slowly turns into nightmare...
Childish faith in omnipotence
Falls into the abyss of fear

With the eyes of my imagination
One night I saw the burning space
Fifty one stars falled from the sky
And died away in ocean of blood...

Later the ocean fast dried out
Exposing the column of fire...
The hammer of destiny falls
Upon those who trust in god...

They used to live in the clouds
Forgot how easy to fall down...
Now world must hear their cry
My vision is getting real...
