When the sun goes down, when the night star falls
I can see you come, I can hear you call
In every corner of the world, in every boy and every girl

With every passion that I feel, and every secret I reveal
There lives a hunger to be free
Oh let the night unchain my heart
Into the darkness now we go, every heart will find it's soul (repeat)

When the sun goes down, when the night star falls

I can see you come, I can hear you call

Come meet me underneath the stars, and you can show me who you are Shadows of love under the moon
soul (repeat)

When the sun goes down, when the city sleeps
We can be ourselves, in this land of dreams (repeat...)
When the sun goes down
