I would do anything
To have those eyes follow me
So quietly
They burn right through me
And I can't seem to sleep
Without your shade of green
Glaring on me

And I only find you (I only find you)
In my dreams

This town will never see it coming
Dressed like that you'd get away with murder
Ditch the car and hit the ground running
This is just a taste of summer

There's no use in going back
And tripping over the past
What's done is done
This shit won't last
And I can't seem to sleep
Without your shade of green
Glaring on me

And I only find you (I only find you)
In my dreams

This town will never see it coming
Dressed like that you'd get away with murder
Ditch the car and hit the ground running
This is just a taste of summer
Use the make up in the world just to hide your scars
But it'll never hide from me who you really are

And I only find you (I only find you)
In my dreams

This town will never see it coming
Dressed like that you'd get away with murder
Ditch the car and hit the ground running
This is just a taste of summer
Use the make up in the world just to hide your scars

But it'll never hide from me who you really are

Late nights, long drives
And your bright green eyes
I'm running out of time
Blinded by the headlights
