"Misery Love My Company"

I am in control I haven't lost my mind
I'm picking up the pieces of the past you left behind
I don't need your condescending words about me looking lonely
I don't need your arms to hold me
Cause misery is waiting on me

I am not alone
not beaten down just yet
I am not afraid of the voices in my head Down the darkest road something follows me
I am not alone
Cause misery loves my company

Leave me in the cold you better run away I'm gonna dig a hole and bury all the memories we've made
I don't need your condescending
words about me looking lonely
I don't need your arms to hold me
Cause misery is waiting on me
