I can't stand humanity the complexity of liberty
Or living with dependency
I feel hypnotized
Scandalized and compromised, feeling like I'm neutralized

Every time I get this feeling of distress and emptiness

So now I lay me down to sleep
And contemplate my own confessions
And try to clear my mind
Perceptions of reality
They only tend to complicate me
I try to clear my mind

I can't stand society
The frequency of casualties leaves us here in misery
We try to co-exist
With bitterness and foolishness, and try to hide our deadliness
