

Throes Of Dawn "On Broken Wings Of Despair"

Haven't we lost it all, already...
Blue skies turned to evergray
Each dawn turned blacker so deep the embrace of dismay

(We could see our fantasies decaying
We could hear our dreams breaking)

Nothing will ever shine again
Nothing will ever be the same again

Nothing will ever rise again
On broken wings of despair

I have no fear for the flames of Hell
For nothing can ever be worse than this
A world through the veil of tears
Perpetual autumn of my soul
