(they didnt know I was alive then)
(you didnt know i was alive then) it's out of the blue, I noticed you i went through old photos and instantly knew crawl back is cool, and we could be so hot

they didnt know I was alive then,
they didnt know me when I knew them
and now you tell yourself that... it's out of the blue, I'm calling you i just needed somone to talk to, and get me through stay tried and true, even though I'm not it's all in the past, you grew up fast you wanted to know in the first place, if you'd end up last but you need me instead, well I'm still dead

they didnt know I was alive then,
they didnt know me when I knew them
and now you tell yourself that we'll be friends

a boomerang is what you threw and soon it will come back to you when all your plans dont follow through and it hits you in the back
