My house of memories is all I own
I live in misery, now that you're gone
A constant reminder, of what used to be
Is torturing me in my house of memories

My house is a prison
Where memories surround me
There's no place to hide
Where your memory won't find me

For my house of memories is all I own
I'm all alone in my house of memories

My house is a prison
Where memories surround me
There's no place to hide
Where your memory won't find me

For my house of memories is all I own
And I'm all alone in my house of memories
In my house of memories
