A day with no sleep, a night with no love
And life without you on my side
If I had to lay down without you on my side
Nightmares would throw both my eyes open wide
And the bad dreams wouldn't leave me
And it would all start to greet me without you on my side

A day with no sleep, a night with no love
And life without you on my side
And if I had to lay down without you by my side
Nightmares would throw both my eyes open wide
And the bad dreams wouldn't leave me
side
Without you on my side
