Silence lays deadly on the wood
And stone of this evil old house
What once here walked, always walked alone
Time is ripe and I am back again
Relive past days, always deadly stained

Some might call haunted
Some call insane
Some call deranged
But I went back again

Scandal, murder, suicide, insanity
The walls are closing in with cruel some entity
Madness, torment spiced with sheer atrocity
Sweet scent of death invites to dear monstrosity

One night the house became alive

Woke me from sleep, time was half past nine
Each room and hall was now in motion
Twisted reason into sick subversion

So call me evil
Call me insane
Call me deranged
But I'll go back again

Scandal, murder, suicide, insanity
The walls are closing in with cruel some entity
Madness, torment spiced with sheer atrocity
Sweet scent of death invites to dear monstrosity

So call me evil
Call me insane
Call me deranged
But I'll go back again
