I was told that an angel could steal my heart
Chant chaos chords and heal my inner scars
Clarified I gaze into my mind
There's more than meets the eye

Rise now and be freed of slumber
Fill veins with liquid dreams
A farewell to reality
And we shall walk the edge of time
Synthetic love divine

Behold
Powers combine
A body, soul and the chemical tide
One gentle gesture and a needle through my soul
Chromeheart and overdriven senses
Guide this endless journey
In search of an individual paradise

So come now
Together
We'll hide from death
Forever
In twilight and midnight we sense
That one more mystery's revealed

I once thought that a demon stole my heart
Promised fevered visions of one thousand arts

But humanity still chained me down
Forever stuck in this humble gown

Behold
Powers combine
A body, soul and the chemical tide
One gentle gesture and a needle through my soul
Chromeheart and overdriven senses
Guide this endless journey
In search of an individual paradise

I was told that an angel could steal my heart
Chant chaos chords and heal my inner scars

Clarified I gaze into my mind
There's more than meets the eye

Rise now and we're free of slumber
A human hand grips you
On the way to paradise
And we shall walk this earth alone
One day we will reach home

So come now
Together
We'll hide from death
Forever
In twilight and midnight we sense
That one more mystery's revealed
