

Thrown Into Chaos "Turning Point"

Visit "Turning Point" on MotoLyrics.com

There is a turning point, we all must face Even though we want to ignore what it has to say Life is not easy, why make things worse Suck it up and stick it out, life's too short to complain, why fight the life beast when it consumes you Drag this life on until it dies
We all have demons of our own, well keep fighting them, until there gone
We must join together to overcome these obstacles
You stabbed me in the back, now you will die, a traitor's death, my so called friend You planned this for so long, how could you see this through Today I make my comeback, I will make sure you fall, today is your plots end, you will not prevail
I will see you.. Fail!
