Evry day passes by, without a low, without a high.... first i wake up, to be me again, with nothing to say and noone to blame!
then i can't do the things i adore, cause ive lost all the passion that i used to live for.... i wish i still had the fire inside of me, so i could see the picture that i used to see.....

cause i feel it as it slips away.....and i try the best i can,
but it wont stay!
cause you know it, we all fade away and we try the best we can but it wont stay..cause it is me...and it is real....but i hate me!

evry words been said before, evry feelings been felt, nothing new to explore...how can i believe that ive got something to say, when evry answers a question leading me astray! hey what's so great about this life anyway, you get to learn how to live, then you just fade away.....i wish i still had the fire inside of me, so i could see the picture that i used to see.....

cause i feel it as it slips away.....and i try the best i can,
but it wont stay!
we can but it wont stay..cause it

i never thought i could be this way, i never really thought i could feel this way, how dare i not believe in me (?) im giving up on evrything i used to be...my strenght is in my head...and im not dead, no i'll never be, cause i'll always come back again!!!

cause i feel it as it slips away.....and i try the best i can,
but it wont stay!
cause you know it, we all fade away and if we try the best we can well make it stay..cause it is me...and it is real....and i love ME
