And I know the smile you always bring
Every time you are near
I can't explain the way it comes to me
Every time you are here
But I know we're still apart again
And I know, yes I know we're still apart again

Because I'm free
There's no price on me
There's no other way
Please come back to me

And it shows the time has come again
And it's always the same
As we sit upon the mountainside
And watch the falling rain
But I know we're still apart again
And I know, yes I know we're still apart again

Because I'm free
There's no price on me
There's no other way
Please come back to me

But I know we're still apart again
And I know, yes I know we're still apart again
And I know, yes I know we're still apart again
And I know, yes I know we're still apart again
