Another sleepless night, layin' in my bed and my mind is racin'

From the past that I regret I gave my life to you on my own free will

Now I'll try to take it back with another pill

It's no use holdin' back things you can't erase
I tried so many times but it's here to stay
The darker side of yesterday, the darker side of yesterday

Well seven years ago a man walked in the night
And showed no mercy when he came and took your life
Now I'm so empty, nothin' I can do

The bastard got away and never left a clue

I know he's out there, he walks the streets again
And I can't take it, the pain and the rage From the darker side of yesterday, the darker side of
yesterday

It's no use holdin' back, things you can't erase
I tried so many times but it's here to stay

The darker side of yesterday
The darker side of yesterday
The darker side of yesterday
The darker side of yesterday
The darker side of yesterday
