Yesterday we had a good thing going,
I loved the way our love was growing.
Thought I'd found love and affection,
When you turned your love in the other direction.

Your love made a U-turn,
Away from me.
Your love made a U-turn,
Left me standing in the street.

Thought I'd wait all night long,
Trying to see the way I'd go wrong.
I can't see through tears in my eyes,
Somebody please tell me why.

His love made a U-turn,
Away from me.
His love made a U-turn,
Left me standing in the street.

Love, sweet love,
Look what you done to me,
And the way you left me standing in the street.
You lift me high, then you let me down,
You won't even try to turn your love around.

Why did you make a U-turn?
Away from me.
Why did you make a U-turn?
Leave me standing in the street.

Every day I tell myself,
Why should I blame someone else?
I'm still standing in a trance,
Hoping there just might be a chance.

You'll make another U-turn,
Right back to me.
Come on, make a U-turn,
Right back to me.
