When images are fading
And sounds are muting away
Where reason has no place
Only my mind to lift me up

My appearance is not defined
Uncontrolled emotions are stunning my mind
As the stars vanish in my eyes
A blurred picture out of nothing appears

Who will lead me the way
As I walk in silence
So hard to achieve the glory
So easy to fall in decay

Hidden beyond a veil of memories
Wrapped in the beauty of mystery inside
As if night and day were one
And echoes of thoughts roam through my heart

So now I remember, the moments of silence
These moments in which I comfort
Wild imaginings flash before my eyes
Isolated from the other side

As I cherish my fragile illusion
I'm reaching the greatest intensity
But slowly I lose my grip
And reality takes me back

Out in the silence, I cope with my feelings
Leaving behind all the thoughts
That reap my mind
I close my eyes for the feelings inside me
Hoping to defeat my deepest fear inside
