Open your hearts and your minds
Within you shall find
Revelations light will give sight

Flames from my heart will act as
A torch to light paths
This day's rejections soon will pass

What was built by man today
Can and will be stripped away
Melt your gold for love is the way

We must rise up as one
A call to all nations
In love salvation lies
Above the hate I say rise

Wipe away the indifference
Arise with me

Open your hearts and your minds
Search for the truth realize
Ignorance makes us all divide

Through tolerance we will find
A way to share lives
A way to all live unified

Cast away the indifference
Arise with me

This life must be purposeful
Look in your heart find yourself
Rise

We must rise above the hate to light

I will fall down - I won't fail
