A hidden realm
The kingdom of secrets
In ancient times who were known by winter demons
But were driven away by thee
Now they are held in stones
And with grimness they now seek revenge eternally

In one night the stones burst and out came a wind
So cold so evil that within
View were only dimensions
Crystallized to see

Suddenly shadows was to see
In battle faster than lightning
They came and took their realm back from thee
Now the snow fall eternally
