as darkness comes you sleep alone i watch the one i've always known turning the corners of your mind am i the focus of your smile?

Dadadada on the summer breeze somehow sinking softly into you dadadada hear the wispering always there no matter what you do i can't stop falling when my heart comes calling

do you feel me?
warming you like rays of sunshine?
can't stop falling when my heart comes calling
do you feel me?
warming you like rays of golden light?

these shadows hide your deepest fears if only you knew i was here you're safe and sound beneath my gaze you have no need to be afraid i am here
everywhere

i can't stop falling when my heart comes calling
do you feel me?
warming you like rays of sunshine?
can't stop falling when my heart comes calling
do you feel me?
warming you like rays of golden light?
