"Love Comes Again"

You have become
What you have always been Light flickering around
Peripheral vision

No words we can speak
our paths have been chosen
But all trails that we trek
Should lead us back to here
Because our

Love comes again
Just when I've broken down I found
Love can come again
You gotta believe that
Love comes again
Just when I've broken down I found
Love can come again

Dig within me
Turn all the secret stones forests and fields
Breathing with blood and bones
Still no words we can speak
our paths have been chosen
But all trails that we trek
Should lead us back to here
Because our

Love comes again
Just when I've broken down I found
Love can come again
You gotta believe that
Love comes again
Just when I've broken down I found
Love can come again
