build me a bridge,
burn me a fire
put something in my empty hand fill it with light fill me tonight
i figured that you would understand up until dawn sweat on your palms feeling you pull in out in under again

under my skin guiding me trough this hall of fears

sweet things build on these sweet things build on me
sweet things bring to me

sing in my head omnipotent circling momentum round and round quenching my thirst first for my thoughts second to fill my silent mouth
