An inwrought irksome rabbit is washing my stomach I can't stop thinking about my tonsils how they are pendulating between my toes slowly suffering from liberty I'm naked on a TV-set and it's running wild, fast, sweet and heavy penetrating in to my grandparents pupils out of reach but with a canoes evil emotion

Allright I can admit it now I was a screaming and lying stoneoperation who searched his way through carparts afraid to be recognized by a spoon

Birds with empty refridgerators heated up the childrens chairsweat There was no chance to drive the table without a blue sock cause my mistakes rolled down above the forest of investigation As soon as I heard my neighbor bend his arm with a submarine the milk was hot and dangerous like a bed

Nobody understands how wipewashers can breathe cows Farting magazines are wading in waxed scarecrows

Falling flesh punched me in my bathsuit look alike neck which controls universe with an ironrip of umbrellas I'm wiping away some mirrors from the snakes without drinking any busstations

Sorry, I'm in love with a door
