convalescent livid we succumb stagnation now complete this is the new plague called unconsciousness we're selfcaged in defeat clotted minds coagulate we are trapped inside the tears we obey resignate to our self-inflected fears voices calm will be never heard in this mode who will change bantised in our minds so absurd is this the world sublime into pools of paranoia we're fading with reality drained by lies we are al inhuman introspective vanishing sterile thoughts now upraised in subhuman majesty bodies numb still enchained where am i in hell of our dreams wrong wrong i'm in the now the vain reality so it seems we're dying yet content worship our chrysalis stage since when are lies devine

since when this is now degrade indulge this is us servile obliging swallowed by our hunger for mendacity as this dance whirls deeper into hate we're vanishing in down deep cold where am i caught cage trapped not in dreams now time has killed our eyes fall fade gone dead away
