A ghost in the hallway
A spirit in a void
Wandering aimlessly
Lost in a purgatory
They detect a presence
But never look my way
Between the present and the future
Lost wandering faceless
Nothing but shadows to see

Forever immortal, Forever youthful
Forever beautiful, nothing inside
Empty where life should breathe...

The ghost that walks
The spirit that can't rest
Never resting never stopping
Moving at a changing pace
Through time it reincarnates
It dies than rebirths
Blossoming than decaying
Plots with unexpected outcome
Changing with seasons and time

Forever immortal, Forever youthful
Forever beautiful, nothing inside
Empty where life should breathe

Nothing inside...
Empty where life should breathe
