All things considered
I feel quite alright today
I don't remember where I was
I don't remember who I was with
I shouldn't have had that last dance
I shouldn't have had that last drink
And I'm sorry for whatever I did to make you leave

'Cause last night they had to carry me home
Last night they had to carry me home

Whoever you thought you met
Sure as hell wasn't me
I may not remember things
But I do remember that much
And I'm sorry for whatever I did to make you leave.

'Cause last night they had to carry me home
Last night they had to carry me home
Last night they had to carry me home
