Let this hurricane of defense
Welcome you with open arms so dense
Do you ever contemplate
Whatever happened to your fate
Let this water work of arrogance
Shower down on all of us
Why are you so tense
And I never would have taken you
For a friend of this state

I am latent
Present but not visible
As of yet please do
Crawl in here for a day or two
And I promise to be so demure
After this we can't go back no more

Let these wings all but carry you
A levitating limbo known by so few
But I never would have taken you
For a friend of this state

I am latent
Present but not visible
As of yet please do
Crawl in here for a day or two
And I promise to be

I am latent
Present but not visible
As of yet please do
Crawl in here for a day or two
And I promise to be so demure
Oh after this we can't go back no more

I am what you call
Present but not visible
So pull yourself together
Yes pull yourself together now
