Take some comfort in this
We keep our records straight
No need to glare at your watch
Cause there ain't never no stalling us
We're easy to please
If only you would apply yourself
Tell us all about the wonderful things
You could've done
With just one more little gasp of air

And it feels like they'll never be able
To fully comprehend the static we emit
Like the hundreds of thousands of people
So close to the end
Are all covered in trails of spit
Covered in trails of

You, you breathe new life into me
You, you breathe new life into me
You, you breathe new life into me
You breathe into me

And it feels like they'll never be able
To fully comprehend the static we emit
Like the hundreds of thousands of people
So close to the end
Are all covered in trails of spit

And this is where you learn
That the life you're about to descend
Has amounted to shit
Like the hundreds of thousands of people
So close to the end
Are all covered in trails of spit
