Looking out from day to day
At a dirty old expensive motorway
I dream of colours when all around is grey
I dream of colours and sunlight

There's a way i'd rather be
Than the person who pretends that he is me
I dream of colours to be what i would be
I dream of colours, inspires me

Suddenly, a shaft of light breaks through
Illuminates the room (gloom?)
When all around was darkened
And tender hues of light and shade
It paints a picture over(?) All together brighter day

Looking out from day to day
At a dirty old expensive motorway
I dream of colours when all around is grey
I dream of colours.. And sunlight

Sunlight.. Sunlight.. And sunlight..
