Can i find the words today
For everything i must communicate
I am in a trance of love
And the price is wisdom and pain

I look into a place i see
A little bit too much of everything
Nothing seems to touch the way i feel
And i feel so much about things
I look into a place i see
A little bit too much of everything
Nothing seems to touch the way i feel
And i feel so much about things

Do i have to kill my mind
To get as close to truth as i would like
I am in a trance of love
And the price is wisdom and pain

I look into a place i see
A little bit too much of everything
Nothing seems to touch the way i feel
And i feel so much about things
I look into a place i see
A little bit too much of everything
Nothing seems to touch the way i feel
And i feel so much about things

Nothing seems to touch.. The way i feel.. Nothing..

I look into a place i see
A little bit too much of everything
Nothing seems to touch the way i feel
And i feel so much about things
I look into a place i see
A little bit too much of everything
Nothing seems to touch the way i feel
And i feel so much about things
