took a trip with your friends up to michigan couldn't wait to get back 'cause you wanted to see her again but now you're back and everything's changed why is it so different why is it so strange while you were gone all her thoughts somehow got rearranged

she left you feeling so cold she left you feeling all alone ya never thought that she would leave you in this way and now you're all alone again why were you left astray when your lost where do you run are you looking for someone to come forward and be a friend who will be the one

she left you feeling so cold

I couldn't believe it when I heard the news to come to me you would refuse you wouldn't want to talk to a friend cause things changed in the end between us and a new crowd you had to choose but such a friend I wasn't willing to lose I said I'd be there until the end cause I would do anything for a true friend...

all alone
