Running my fingers through your perfect hair
In my mind nothing can compare
And to the way you feel when I pull you near Come a little closer now and let me whisper in your ear

I wanna know you in an intimate way
Wanna feel your heart beat from a million miles away
Wanna know what you're thinking without saying a word
Want this love to be more than just, just a blur

I feel my heart trot every time I say good bye
Sorry it took so long...
I need you more than I ever thought I could
My heart is beating to be understood

I wanna know you in an intimate way
Wanna feel your heart beat from a million miles away
Wanna know what you're thinking without saying a
word
Want this love to be more than just, more than just a blur

I hear you when you cry and I feel your tears
I know I can't make up with those broken years
Still I'm gonna try to treat you right
Wanna see you smile again, light up those eyes

I wanna know you in an intimate way
I wanna feel your heart beat from a million miles away
I wanna know what you're thinking without saying a word
Want this love to be more than just, more than just a
blur

This love is more than just a...
This love is more than just a...
This love is more than just a...
This love is more than just a...
This love is more than just a...
This love is more than just a...

This love is more than just a...
