I'm trapped in the pressure cooker
When will I ever learn?
While my world has reached the boiling
Point of no return

Don't light a match near me
I'm bound to explode
Don't pull this shit with me
I want what I'm owed

I've seen the facts and the figures you hide
You time is coming, you're caught in a lie

Too many potions in my cabinet
Too many lives left on the line
If you are one of those who made me end up crazy
You will get your's all in due time

One more hour of induced psychosis
I'll be a real nut case
That's what I get for listening to you
You put me in this place

Don't light a match near me
I'm bound to explode
Don't pull this shit with me
I want what I'm owed

My reservations have left me to die
You're two-faced and scheming, I spit in your eye

Too many potions in my cabinet
Too many lives left on the line
If you are one of those who made me end up crazy
You will get your's all in due time

I'm in a no-win situation with no timeouts left
Time for heavy ammunition, time for action, no regrets

Too many potions in my cabinet
Too many lives left on the line
If you are one of those who made me end up crazy

You will get your's all in due time

Too many potions in my cabinet
Too many lives left on the line
If you are one of those who made me end up crazy
You will get your's in due time

You'll get your's, you'll get your's
You'll get your's, you'll get your's
You'll get your's, you'll get your's
In due time
