I'm a split personality, who am I today?
As I think about the words and the shit that I say
And where do I go as I follow my feet
So clouded are my thoughts I can barely speak

Oh I'm lost in a world, the static on my mind
As I'm reachin' out for that bottle of wine
Oh I take two shots, I'm ready to go
I feel like a shotgun ready to blow

The TV's on but all I see is static
Black and white and there's nothing on
I said the TV's on but all I see is static
Black and white and there's nothing on

Now I get hit like a right cross to the jaw
You wouldn't believe the things that I saw
It's a movie life of the worst kind
It's a permanent nightmare in my mind

And all these people that we cross paths
Hold on tight and wait for it to pass
My mind blurs and it's all gone
I wake up sick to another dawn

The TV's on but all I see is static
Black and white and there's nothing on
I said the TV's on but all I see is static
Black and white and there's nothing on

There's nothing on
