In the spotlight, deadline, sends a tingle through your spine, like light flashes before your eyes. I've found a new religion based on you. My friends and I were only out to seek the truth Would you give it all up, to see the dream? Would you wash it all down, If you don't believe? (straight up and go) Like a close call, so pressed for time From the music to these lips, let these lips send chills down through your fingertips. I've found a new religion based on you. My heart and I were only out to seek the truth Would you give it all up, to see the dream? Would you wash it all down, If you don't believe? (straight up and go) Like a cut-throat sing-along, so influential Like a cut-throat sing-along, so influential (We are so influential) Like a cut-throat sing-along, so influential (Make it now, make it now, it's time to decide) Like a cut-throat sing-along, so influential (Make it now, make it now, it's time to decide) Would you give it all up, to see the dream? Would you wash it all down, If you don't believe? (if you don't believe) (Make it now, make it now) Would you give it all up, to see the dream? Would you wash it all down, If you don't believe? (straight up and go)
