I can see right through you
Your life's a fucking dud
That's clear from my mind
The perfect one to judge
Speak of my friends like we're pieces of shit
And you say I'm a bitch for putting up with it
Don't need to start up any fight
Nothing to prove when I know I'm right
I won't listen to your bullshit
I know you're just acting out
Tear me down to feel better
That's what you're all about
Others see you crying
And they jump to defend their pride
They do it just the same as you just to know
That they're alive

Push my buttons go ahead
I'm never gonna burst
I have something that you don't
I know how to deal with my hurt
