A pierce of no detail,whispers wrongly, slow,calm,but wishful are we now? I've taken all I own. 12 days have come and passed, I act like it does'nt bother me,but it does? I've taken all I own, and shaped with my own hands it seems the same,it seems the same to take what I don't have it seems could only be a long wait piecer sting your own face clearer is my line of sight the day I might give anything Ive taken all I own, and shaped with my own hands it seems the same,it seems the same to take what I don't have it seems the same,it seems the same Ive taken all I need,don't turn your back on me my own family left me here alone..... I wrapped my arms around you I open up to find you admit you're so gone to have you here with me never understood never understood how could I Your f*cked up love can't have me Your f*cked up love can't have me in your family I see why I've taken all I need don't turn your back on me My own family has left me here alone
