Can you honestly say we're no good for one another?
I know I can't so why bother.
And did you really mean every word that slipped through your sweet mouth?
I sure as hell didn't.

Last night might well have been pure hell. But we both know it's not like that.

So come on! Let's not let just one night fuck it all up.
Don't let the devil ruin it all.

Can't you honestly see that it's not the words, only the memory that's putting us down?
And can't you truly see that I want you and you want me so what the hell are we so scared of?
Last night might well have been pure hell. But as we're both half crazy we'll treat it with laughs.

So come on! Let's not let just one night fuck it all up.
Don't let the devil ruin it all.
