So you noticed a smile on my face?
I haven't felt like this for one thousand five hundred and fifteen days.
I was broken hearted, down, but now I'm fine.
And the reason, I'm sorry to say, is you're not mine.
But come on over and try to sing along.

Cause Lovers are Lonely, but honey, please don't cry!
Don't you cry.

So you noticed a slight change in me?
I used to sit at home drinking but now I'm free.
I've come a long way and you're still stuck in place.
And believe me I'm not trying to shove this in your face.
But come on over and try to sing along!

Cause Lovers are Lonely, but honey please don't cry.
Lovers are losers! Sweet lover, I'm going to be just fine.
We're going to be all right.
