I see you around. I see you running around town.
I see you around. I've seen you; you've been hanging around with all the wrong crowds.
Shining like a hang on. You've been lying to them,
yourself and me.

I see you around. I've seen you; you've been running around with a scrap of a man.
Fucking with your mask on. You've been fucking with someone else but me.

And if you can't see it coming then neither will I.
I'm sorry but we see you've been living a lie.

You've been lying to someone else but me.
