(Ross Inglis)

Who knows what the future holds
Who knows what tomorrow brings
Somewhere there's a place for us I know
You chose to go your own way
Kept searching for brighter days
But the feeling that keeps haunting you won't go
I'll be here when you really want me
I'll be here when you need me right here
I'll be here when you're thinking of me
I'll be here
Waiting with my love to draw you near
You won't ever find a love
Like mine you were so certain of
I gave it all to you and non-one else
I'll hold on till time stands still
But until you say you will
Come back to me so we can love again
I'll be here when you really want me
I'll be here when you need me right here
I'll be here when you're thinking of me

I'll be here
Waiting with my love to draw you near
What we left behind was out key to love
We both made our mistake
But it's never too late
To get back where we belong
I'll be here when you really want me
I'll be here when you need me right here
I'll be here when you're thinking of me
I'll be here
Waiting with my love to draw you near
I'll be here when you really want me
I'll be here when you need me right here
I'll be here when you're thinking of me
I'll be here
Waiting with my love to draw you near
