You were left with nothing as a child, now that's a lot to carry
You've been empty handed all your life, a heavy weight to carry
Things could be different but it wouldn't be the same
You wouldn't be the man I love without this weight

Cause all these years feeling small and misplaced
The only lonely man on Noah's Ark
Yeah, all these years dealing with radioactive waste
Has made you glow in the dark
Don't you know you glow in the dark?
Don't you know you glow?

You've been digging graves since we first met, you've got a lot to bury
From the empty closets in your head, a heavy weight to carry
Things could be better but it wouldn't feel this good
I wouldn't change a thing about you if I could

Cause all the years feeling small and misplaced
The only lonely man on Noah's Ark
Yeah all these years dealing with radioactive waste
Has made you glow in the dark
Don't you know you glow in the dark?
Don't you know you glow?
You glow
You glow, glow
You glow, glow
