The rain is pouring, I am crying, we are like children

Above the clouds we will start from scratch
And our whole life will not be enough for us
To say "I love you"

Above the clouds we will start from scratch
And our whole life will not be enough for us
To say "I love you"

Why every time you start flying
Someone's holding you and you don't know
How to restrain (hold back) love, but that's a mystery
To say "Good bye", but not bluntly

I want to whisper, but who will hear me?
I'd like to shout (yell) as silently as possible
My spirit is strong, but who will believe me?
And I know that no one believes tears

Above the clouds we will start from scratch
And our whole life will not be enough for us
To say "I love you"

Above the clouds we will start from scratch
And our whole life will not be enough for us
To say "I love you"

Above the clouds we will start from scratch
And our whole life will not be enough for us
To say "I love you"
And our whole life will not be enough for us
