When you say the things you say
You gotta mean it
And when you do the things you do
It's gotta come from the heart

Something's gone, I can't explain
The heat is missing from the plain
Can't deny it, there's a link missing from the chain

There's something wrong with you and me
When one and one adds up to three
Don't know the reason, but the fact is plain to see
It's the touch that you lose and the words you don't say
It's our love you abuse, don't you throw it away

When you do what you do, that you do to me
Don't you know that it ain't enough?
When you do what you do, it don't mean a thing
When you do what you do without love, without love

I'm gonna paint a picture of you
The only color I need is blue
You're out of love, baby, you know it's true
Tell me why and I'll try to understand

'Cause I could cry when you do what you do to me
Don't you know that it ain't enough?
When you do what you do, it don't mean a thing
When you do what you do without love

It's the touch that you lose
And the words you don't say
It's the love you refuse
Don't you throw it away, yeah

I know, when you do what you do that you do to me
Don't you know that it ain't enough?
When you do what you do
Then you know it's a crime that you kill me up
When you do what you do without love, without love

Don't know what you're doing

What you're doing without love?

When you do what you do, it don't mean a thing

When you do what you do, it don't mean a thing

When you do what you do, it don't mean a thing
