People are silly, they make rumours of me
It seems like their controlling my own life
I tell them the truth, but it seems like it's not working

I wish that they can see, or just believe.
That I'm just girl, like in every other world
I'm always naive, every time they stare at me
One thing becomes a whole wide world thing
I miss being normal oh oh but now I'm just a abnormal
Everyday of my life these day, flash lights
Cus' up for the fight.

I take a step outside, I make sure I look with pride
Cus' I have to. I do one big mistake, and my audience
Fades, becuae it's serious.

I wish that they can see, or just believe.
That I'm just girl, like in every other world
I'm always naive, every time they look at me
One thing becomes a whole wide world thing
I miss being normal oh oh but now I'm just a abnormal
Everyday of my life these day, flash lights
Cus' up for the fight.

Flash lights, camara's, poses, red carpets
Interviews, holly wood all of that I have to be good.

I wish that they can see, or just believe.
That I'm just girl, like in every other world
I'm always naive, every time they look at me
One thing becomes a whole wide world thing
I miss being normal oh oh but now I'm just a abnormal
Everyday of my life these day, flash lights
Cus' up for the fight.
