No, I don't think your the best. yes I do think your a mess, no I don't think you've been blessed, and yes I do think your a stress.

You just say whatever, but then again your not that clever.

All you do is think about yourself, your life your hair, himself

Whenever I try to talk to you, their is a stop sign in the middle, all the things you tell me are just riddles' I knew from the beginning you got my head spinning, and then you make up these lame excuses, just think again becuase your the one that loses, but you refused it, your nothing

And yes, I do think your wrong and no, I don't think your strong, and yes your not gonna last for long it's obvious, life is full of regrets, you waste your time and listen to cassettes, I really feel upset about you.

Whenever I try to talk to you, their is a stop sign in the middle, all the things you tell me are just riddles' I knew from the beginning you got my head spinning, and then you make up these lame excuses, just think again becuase your the one that loses, but you refuses. your nothing

Why this thing is happening to me
I wanted to be with the one I love
So why am I number three, baby I just Disagree...

Whenever I try to talk to you, their is a stop sign in the middle, all the things you tell me are just riddles' I knew from the beginning you got my head spinning, and then you make up these lame excuses, just think again becuase your the one that loses, but you refuses.
