Daddy, Daddy, what is heaven like?
Is it like our house, so pretty and white?
I don't understand, it doesn't seem fair.
If Mommy loved us so, why did she go there?

(deeper voice)

Heaven, my son, is a beautiful place.
Where there's a smile on everyone's face.
Mommy loved us both, but she had to go,
We needed her so, but they needed her more.

(light voice)

Daddy, Daddy, is heaven very far?
How long would it take if we go by car?
If you cross me at the corner, I can take my bike.
Daddy, please tell me, what's heaven like?

(deeper voice)

You can't go there, by bike or a car,
But if you're good, you'll go very far,
And maybe someday, you'll go to heaven, too.
If I know your mommy, she saved a place for you.

(light voice)

Daddy, Daddy, I can hardly wait.
I'm so excited; heaven sounds great
Can I run and tell Brother good-bye?
Why is there, Daddy, a tear in your eye?
