I can remember there was nothing but hatred
The loyalties that have been broken and failures
Appearing on the wall now we're better off in coffins
Why must we stay honest at raid

Raid raid sacrifice us all
Raid raid save your last resort

The bombs falling to the ground
They'll never understand
When will they open their eyes
Fall into the ground
They'll never understand
When will they open their minds

Their minds their hearts spoiled by recruitment
Their minds their hearts spoiled by counting
