Call me out
My regret
Only makes me stronger yet

Nothing I've ever done right
Happened on the safe side
It's the other way
I'm missing everyone I know now

It's too late in the day
It's too late in the day to take you on all the right
I was afraid to tell you that

Back to that photograph
Can you clone me?
I look like everyone you know now

It's too late in the day
It's too late in the day to turn me around and change my mind
It's too late in the day to take you on all the right
It's too late in the day to tell me I'm off the path
We're already in the aftermath

Call me out
My regret
Only makes me stronger yet

It's too late in the day
Too late in the day to turn me around and change my mind
It's too late in the day to take you on all the right
It's too late in the day to tell me I'm off the path
We're already in the aftermath
