"Whiskey State Of Mind"

A Day's worth of drinkin', gone to my head
I come home in the evenin' to another empty bed

Trouble's gone for a little while, freed them from my mind
But they'll be there waitin' for me come tomorrow's time

Another day
In a whiskey state of mind
A bottle of whiskey boy
Ain't no place to hide

Sun peaks through the window, my head starts to spin
Looks like another nice day might pass me by again

Mr. Bandwagon came around, to give me another ride
I said sir don't come around here bringin' your whiskey lies

Up against a lamppost, all I can do is lean Light shinin' down from up above, yet I can hardly see

Once again I find myself standing all alone
I guess this dark way of life is all I'll ever know
